EXPERIENCE

With over 2 years of experience as a freelance frontend web developer, I am currently a part-time Computer Science student. Balancing my academic responsibilities with professional work, I specialize in creating websites and web applications using React. My freelancing experience includes delivering custom web solutions for a diverse range of clients, from individuals to companies, tailored to their specific needs. I have earned certifications in React, JavaScript, and Tailwind CSS, which have enhanced my proficiency in frontend development. Additionally, I actively participate in coding challenges on platforms like Frontend Mentor, where I not only complete various projects but also contribute to the community by providing code reviews and feedback.
